RESEARCH

2007 (4 months) SF Bay Area. Multiple interviews with 12 disabled elderly persons (over 65) on their use of cell phones. This study for SPRINT was designed to investigate what the best cell phone accommodations are for older disabled people, as well as whether any technology transfer from younger to older disabled persons can be utilized.

2006 SF Bay Area (4 months). Pilot study for the Communication Access Project (CAP), a San Francisco Bay Area research group. In-depth interviews and focus groups with 5 speech impaired persons who have significant dysarthric speech and/or utilize AAC. The study focused on the barriers people with speech impairments face in effectively communicating in everyday contexts including sexuality, health care settings and family life and also explored the range of communicative strategies they use.

2003-2004 Berkeley (5 months). Association of Programs for Rural Independent Living. Project on disabled rural political leaders. Interview analysis and write-up the final report.

2003 Berkeley (2 months). Series of life history interviews with Dr. Elias Katz, founder and former director of the National Institute for Art and Disability (NIAD). Dr. Katz was instrumental in the development of the Art and Disability Movement for cognitively impaired persons and was over 90 years of age at the time of this project.

2003-2005 Berkeley and Los Angeles (24 months). Series of sexual life history interviews with Harlan Hahn, a disabled activist and political scientist, on the relationship between his sexuality and personal life with his development as a disability activist and scholar. "Making the Sexual Political!"

2002 Northern California (6 months). Program evaluation. Evaluation Measures, Workforce Improvement Act Demonstration ("Ticket to Work"), The California Endowment, World Institute on Disability, Oakland, California. Interviews with 10 stakeholders and analysis of interview transcripts.

1997-2007 Berkeley. Series of sexual life history and topical interviews (over 100) with Frank Moore, a performance artist who has cerebral palsy and uses a wheelchair for mobility and a head pointer and alphabet board to communicate. These interviews focus on the relationship between his sexuality, lifestyle, and art, "Sexuality in Life and Art."

1996-1999 (33 months) SF Bay Area, California. Series of modified, life history interviews with 14 men cerebral palsy on their search for sexual intimacy (146 total interviews); semi-structured interviews with members of relevant classes of others who interact with men with cerebral palsy (30 total interviews); keeping of an ethnographic journal describing relevant discussions and interactions in the East Bay Disability Community in which I worked as a personal assistant for disabled people. Medical Anthropology Program, University of California, San Francisco.

1996 (2 months) Berkeley, California. Several informal, open-ended interviews and group interviews with 4 severely disabled men with cerebral palsy concerning their sexuality. The purpose of these interviews was to get an idea of the range of sexual issues that these men contend with for planning my dissertation research. Medical Anthropology Program, University of California, San Francisco.

1995-1999 (42 months) Berkeley, California. A series of life history interviews with a significantly disabled friend who has cerebral palsy and uses a wheelchair for mobility and a head pointer and alphabet board to communicate. These interviews focused on his sexuality. Participant-observation while living with him and performing personal assistant services for him.

1994 (6 months) Oakland, California. Research Assistant: Observations of staff-patient interaction and semi-structured interviews with staff at Mercy Care Center and Oakridge Nursing Home. "The Role of Written Life Histories for Nursing Home Residents," Terry Hill MD, Principal Investigator.

1993 (2 months) Wales and England. Interviews with staff concerning management of patients' behavioral problems and observation of staff-patient interaction during therapeutic activities at 11 geropsychiatric facilities. Medical Anthropology Program, University of California, San Francisco.

1991 (6 months) Oakland, California. Observations of staff-patient interaction during rehabilitation groups, mealtimes and cigarette breaks and semi-structured interviews with staff at Garfield Geropsychiatric Hospital. Grounded theory analysis focused on staffs' responses to patients' "inappropriate" behavior and staffs' rationale for their responses. Medical Anthropology Program, University of California, San Francisco.

1991 (2 months) Oakland, California. Community study of the Fruitvale Area in Oakland, California, including interviews with merchants, agency administrators and ordinary citizens on the street. Medical Anthropology Program, University of California, San Francisco.

1984-1985 (12 months) Burlingame, Concord and Berkeley, California. Series of 25 life history interviews with a woman who had cancer. Master's Thesis in Anthropology, California State University, Sacramento, 337 p. copyright 1987.

1981 (3 months) Sacramento, California. Research Assistant: Historical research for an ethnography of Merchant's National Bank, Roderick Slaughter, Principal Investigator.
